

Agreement on the use of photos with Schöneben AG

The photographer gives Schöneben AG free online access to the image material for downloading the images. By clicking the "Yes, I accept the terms of use" notice, the photographer allows the transfer of rights of use to the photos.

The author assures that he is the sole owner of all unrestricted rights to the recordings to be provided and is therefore entitled to grant Schöneben AG the contractual rights of use.

License terms

Schöneben AG is granted unlimited and free rights of use by the author.

Usage

Use is permitted for all media (printed matter, online and social media marketing, presentations). Schöneben AG acquires the exclusive rights of use for the print, web and presentation images.

Prohibited use

The photos can be modified by Schöneben AG for its intended use. In particular, changes that distort the original image statement in such a way that personal disadvantages such as damage to reputation are imposed on the author as well as changes that are restricted and prohibited by further rights (e.g. personal rights, trademark law) are not permitted. In these cases, the express written approval must be obtained from the rights holder.

Security and data protection

The author assumes all usual and reasonable efforts regarding security, especially regarding the confidentiality of licensees. The author does not provide a further guarantee - especially regarding claims for damages.

In the event of disputes, the German version of the general conditions has legal force.